Order Term

This Order will begin on the first Subscription Start Date listed below and continue until the last Subscription End Date listed below. If this Order is executed after the Subscription Start Date, Figma may adjust the Order Term to reflect the actual provisioning dates without increasing the total price or altering the term length. If this Order is not fully executed by the offer expiration date above, Figma may reject this Order.

This Order will automatically renew for successive annual Order Terms on the then-current Software Agreement, unless the parties enter into a new renewal Order or either party notifies the other of non-renewal at least 30 days before the end of the then-current Order Term. The fees for an automatic renewal are equal to the annualized price per seat multiplied by the greater of: (i) the quantity of seats for each seat type purchased for the preceding Order Term (as adjusted by any seats that have been added or upgraded), or (ii) the quantity of seats for each seat type in Customer's account on the renewal date.

1. Seat Additions and Upgrades. Customer's administrative user may purchase additional seats or upgrade existing seats via the administrative portal at the pricing listed in Appendix 1. Seats added or upgraded during the Order Term will be charged from the date the seat is approved, and prorated until the end of the Order Term. Seats that have been added or upgraded will be added to the next quarterly invoice (every 3 months of the Order Term) when applicable. For clarity, if on the initial

Subscription Start Date, Customer's account has seats exceeding the quantity listed above, such seats will be prorated from the Subscription Start Date and added to the next quarterly invoice.
