Employment Academy 2026

The International Labour Office presents its compliments to the Permanent Missions and Governments of States Members of the International Labour Organization (ILO) and has the honour to convey information to their representatives on this year's edition of the Employment Academy, which will be held around the theme Technology, Productivity and Structural Transformation for Social Justice.

The Academy is jointly organized by the Employment, Skills and Sustainable Enterprises Department of the ILO and the Employment Policy and Analysis Programme of the International Training Centre of the ILO (ITCILO) in Turin, and will take place in a blended format.

The Academy will consist of two complementary phases: an online phase from 22 June to 3 July, followed by an in-person phase in Turin, Italy, from 6 to 10 July 2026. In the latter, participants will take part in a series of elective thematic tracks that address the structural drivers of productivity and decent work, and the policy and enterprise-level approaches that can promote productivity upgrading and decent job creation. It will explore how countries can pursue a high road to productivity, one that combines economic upgrading with effective social dialogue and policy coherence, as the only pathway to deliver sustainable growth, decent work and social justice for all.

The Academy is designed for:

- Policymakers, policy advisors, planners and technical experts from relevant institutions;
- Government officials from Ministries of Labour and other relevant line ministries, including Ministries of Economy, Finance, Planning, Industry and Central Banks;
- Representatives of workers and employers organizations;
- Staff from international and regional organizations, development partners and academic institutions.

The participation of full tripartite country delegations (government, workers and employers) is strongly encouraged to support integrated dialogue and policy coherence.

The Academy will be conducted in English, with French interpretation provided throughout the programme. Learning materials will be available in both languages. Participants may discuss and present the results of group activities in their preferred language.
