Subject: Request regarding Communication Strategy – Norwegian Parliament

Dear Audun

In Riigikogu (Estonian Parliament) we have two main documents about communication – 1) Good Practice for Public Communication 2) principles for crisis communication (part of the Chancellery's crisis plan).

Both of them are intended only for internal use and therefore my answer is very general.

The Good Practice includes aims and principles of our communication. And there is also description what kind of notifications we do and how the Public Relations Department works.

In the principles for crisis communication are described our activities during crisis.

All the best,

Urmas Seaver

The Head of Public Relations Department
