Answer to request

Estonian Data Protection Authority (Estonian DPA) has received your request for answers to questions related to codes of conduct and legal regulations concerning artificial intelligence.

As of today, the Estonian DPA has not approved any codes of conduct pursuant to Article 40 of the GDPR. Furthermore, there are currently no codes of conduct in the process of being developed or adopted.

With regard to legal regulation concerning artificial intelligence, no specific national legislation is currently in force. Although the AI Act foresees the adoption of a national implementing act, such legislation has not yet been enacted in Estonia. The Estonian DPA therefore recommends requesting information on forthcoming legislation from the Ministry of Justice and Digital Affairs.

I hope the above answer clarifies the current situation. Should you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Respectfully
