10:15 Session 1: Space for Disaster and Risk Management

Today, we are all exposed to serious vulnerabilities: drought, reduced or excessive rainfall, earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, man-made catastrophes... which are menacing our environment putting in danger our lives, our economy and impacting properties, flora, fauna and cultural heritage.

Luckily, Space solutions have the potential to help governments and administrations to manage disaster risks. They play a crucial role in all phases of the disaster risk management cycle: from prevention and preparedness to response and recovery.

Keynote Speech and Moderation by Simonetta Cheli, Director of Earth Observation Programmes and Head of ESRIIN, European Space Agency (ESA)

Interventions by Ministers and Members of Parliaments

Roundtable Discussion

11:15 Session 2: Space in Support of Society

Space solutions play a key role in helping policy-makers address societal challenges and develop policies that meet public needs. Rationalization of traffic management, improvement of public transport, dynamic urban planning, air quality, management of drinking water supplies, optimizing energy and waste without forgetting supporting healthcare and emergency response... Space technology offers valuable solutions in many sectors.

Keynote Speech and Moderation by Salem Al Qubaisi, Director General, UAE Space Agency

Interventions by Ministers and Members of Parliaments

Roundtable Discussion

12:15 Session 3: Space-based Solutions to Safeguard Life on Earth

Space solutions have become powerful tools for governments to address long-standing challenges. By providing real-time monitoring and precise detection capabilities, these technologies help to combat illegal activities such as illegal fishing, trafficking of goods, discharges from ships on the high seas but also planning sustainable aquaculture activities, monitoring water turbidity, improving the management of marine protected areas.

Space-based solutions have also improved border surveillance, enabling policy makers to implement more effective security measures.
