Dear Mr Godfrey

Thank you for your kind invitation. After careful consideration, we regret to inform you that we are unable to accept the offer at this time.

While we truly appreciate the opportunity and acknowledge the potential benefits of such collaboration, our current priorities and resources do not allow us to engage in this partnership effectively. We hope you understand our position.

We wish you the best of luck with your endeavors and hope that our paths may cross again under more favorable circumstances in the future.

Thank you again for your understanding.

Best regards
