To whom it may concern

The Ministry of Health of Ukraine expresses its sincere appreciation for your continued cooperation and unwavering support of our national healthcare system, especially during these exceptionally difficult times. Your commitment to safeguarding human life and ensuring access to essential medical care has been critical to our collective humanitarian response.

As a result of the ongoing full-scale war against Ukraine, our healthcare system continues to face severe challenges. While the government continues to prioritize healthcare within its means, the financial burden of wartime expenditures has significantly restricted our ability to meet the growing and urgent needs of hospitals and patients nationwide. Despite our best efforts to ensure continuity of medical services, the cumulative effect of these conditions, as well as disrupted logistics, has led to critical shortages of essential medicines and medical devices across the country.

One of the most pressing concerns is the shortage of goods for treating cardiovascular diseases. Cardiovascular diseases remain one of the leading causes of death in Ukraine and require uninterrupted access to essential treatments. The lack of access to these medicines and medical devices poses a grave threat to public health and may result in increased morbidity, avoidable mortality, and added strain on already overstretched emergency and inpatient services.

In light of the above, we respectfully appeal to you to consider providing humanitarian aid of essential medicines and medical devices for the treatment of cardiovascular diseases. Your contribution will directly support the stabilization of patient care, ensure the continuity of critical treatments, and ultimately save lives.

An annex detailing priority goods is enclosed for your consideration. We remain at your disposal to coordinate logistics, provide technical details, and facilitate any necessary formalities to ensure the timely and effective delivery of aid.
