

Tallinn Defence Expo

Invitation

22 – 24 September | Tallinn Creative Hub

Modern defence is defined not by what you buy, but by who can keep it operational under pressure. In the Baltic, resilient supply chains, local industry and trusted partnerships are as critical as the platforms themselves. When logistics are contested, proximity is no longer geography – it is strategic capability.

Join Saab at this year's Tallinn Defence Expo to discuss how naval resilience, industrial partnerships, and secure supply chains strengthen security in one of NATO's most strategic regions.
