Dear Colleagues,

I hope this message finds you well and that you had a pleasant Easter, enjoying the break and spending quality time in ways that you love.

I am writing to inform you about a change in my professional role. I have recently taken on the position of Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) at the Federal Office of Police (fedpol). This new responsibility means that I will no longer serve as Switzerland's National Contact Point (NCP) for the ENLETS network.

I am pleased to introduce Mr. Michael Kunz as the new NCP for Switzerland. Michael is the Deputy Head of the Division for Operational Development and Projects within the International Police Cooperation at Fedpol. With his experience, leadership in multiple projects, and involvement in the Future Lab Team, Michael is well-prepared for this role. His interests in sports, cooking, technology, and security add depth to his professional profile. I have known Michael for many years and I am sure that he is perfectly positioned to build on our work in the ENLETS community, fostering international police cooperation with dedication and expertise. I am confident that he will make a valuable contribution to our network and continue the collaborative efforts.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the cooperation and friendship we have shared over the years. It has been a truly rewarding experience working with each of you. While my role has changed, I hope to maintain many of the connections we have made.

Please welcome Michael warmly to his new role. He looks forward to connecting with each of you, exploring future collaboration opportunities, and advancing our collective mission. Michael can be reached at Michael.Kunz@fedpol.admin.ch. Michael will be attending the next NCP meeting in Brussels.

Thank you for the collaboration, support, and progress we have achieved together.

Warmest regards,

Philipp
