FOR THE ATTENTION OF: Lauri Läänemets, Minister of the Interior, and Madis Timpson, Minister of Justice of Estonia

Dear Mr. Läänemets and Mr. Timpson,

On behalf of 14 member associations collectively representing over 2,500 rights owners, including SMEs and start-ups across all industry sectors who serve millions of European consumers every day, we are pleased to share this joint statement advocating for the inclusion of Intellectual Property Crime as a priority in the European Union's European Multidisciplinary Platform Against Criminal Threats (EMPACT) 2026-2029 policy cycle. This will not only support ongoing efforts to protect consumer health and safety, but also bolster the European Union's competitive edge in the global market.

Please find attached a detailed statement outlining our position and the reasons for our support.

We must continue to recognize the persistent threat from counterfeiting and IP crime. The fight against counterfeiting requires all stakeholders—from law enforcement and border protection to rights owners and policymakers—to cooperate and collaborate effectively. This cooperation is enabled through IP Crime being a part of the EMPACT priorities.

We would welcome to the opportunity to share more insights from industry and our members on this topic.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.

Best regards,

Alastair
