Subject: Request for Clarification on Child-Resistance Requirements for Disposable Electronic Cigarettes in Estonia

Dear Sir or Madam,

We are writing on behalf of Dižmalas SIA, a company registered in Latvia, regarding our intention to introduce a disposable electronic cigarette product to the Estonian market.

The product in question will include a sticker that prevents inhalation prior to first use. However, it does not feature a physical child-lock mechanism that would prevent inhalation in the event the product comes into the possession of a child.

In preparation for entering the Estonian market, we respectfully request your guidance on whether a physical child-resistant mechanism is a mandatory requirement under Estonian regulations, or if the current preventive sticker approach may be considered sufficient to comply with national and EU-level requirements.

We would highly appreciate your official position or any reference to the relevant regulations that could guide us in ensuring our product meets all safety and compliance standards applicable in Estonia.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Sincerely,
Einars Corndorfs
Director
Dižmalas SIA
