

Dear Alexandra,

Thank you for contacting and showing interest. Unfortunately, we cannot provide you with additional information about the use of AI by the Estonian tax office, we just do not have any specific information or materials on this. However, the Ministry of Economy and Communications has created a webpage www.kratid.ee (also available in English) with an overview of public sector AIs (we are calling them "kratt" or "kratid") created for different services and the possibilities of their use.

If you have any additional questions, do not hesitate to contact with me.

Best wishes,

Maarja Kirss
